

Analytics Database & Reporting Services

Assign It To Us Business Intelligence can help your organization successfully deploy performance management solutions. Our extensive experience spans many industry verticals, in both the private and public sectors. Assign It To Us supports both end user clients and OEM partners in designing, building, and maintaining reporting and analysis solutions. We have served markets as diverse as Pharmaceuticals and Public Education on business subject matter as diverse as Personnel Turnover and Shipping Fill Rates.

Our knowledge has enabled us to develop the Knodeo database and reporting toolset. With Knodeo, the difference is that the software is not part of the cost equation. With other commercial reporting solutions, you've spent tens or even hundreds of thousands of dollars on software licenses before you've even spent a dime on services. Knodeo is based on open source technology and allows you to bypass the software costs and divert that money towards building the analytics database to support your ideal reporting solution. Whether your needs include data warehousing, data modeling, multi-dimensional cubes, or complex business reporting, Assign It To Us has the skills to support your organization.

Assign It To Us also offers project management services. To ensure that projects run smoothly, we have a balanced approach towards projects—we took the best parts of agile development and combined them with traditional approaches. This allows us to iterate quickly without losing sight of key deadlines and milestones.
